

TITLE

Mr. Hyde

KEY POINTS, CHARACTERS, QUESTIONS, ETC.

"The man seems hardly human...or is it the mere radiance of a foul soul that thus transpires through, and transfigures, its clay continent?" (12)

Required:
3 items in this column

DETAILS

This passage reveals the sinister, beastly qualities of Mr. Hyde. The speaker wonders if Mr. Hyde's outward ugliness was shaped from the inside out by an ugly soul. Perhaps the physical body is like a "clay continent" that can be molded and sculpted by the forces within. This implies that the soul can be manipulated and that evil is a powerful force.

Required:
3 items in this column (use complete sentences)

SUMMARY

Required:
1 paragraph (complete sentences)