

FRANKENBLOGS

BLOG POST #2

HONORS

Title: Nature vs. Nurture

Min. Word Count: 300

Prompt: Your blog post should cover all three parts of the following prompt:

- How does the monster learn about the world in which he lives? How do books and the DeLacey family play crucial roles in Mo's development into a thoughtful, eloquent person?
- How do rejection, abandonment, and isolation play a crucial role in Mo's transformation into someone who bears "eternal hatred and vengeance to all mankind?" Do you feel sympathy for Mo?
- Is Mo's descent into a murderous rage a result of his nature or his nurture? In other words, was he destined to become this way because he was "born" with an evil heart (nature), or is it a result of his "upbringing" and experiences (nurture)?

CP

Title: Nature vs. Nurture

Min. Word Count: 175

Prompt: Your blog post should cover both parts of the following prompt:

- How do rejection, abandonment, and isolation play a crucial role in Mo's transformation into someone who bears "eternal hatred and vengeance to all mankind?" Do you feel sympathy for Mo?
- Is Mo's descent into a murderous rage a result of his nature or his nurture? In other words, was he destined to become this way because he was "born" with an evil heart (nature), or is it a result of his "upbringing" and experiences (nurture)?