COURSE OVERVIEW

Andrea Lundsford says, “Rhetoric is the art, practice, and study of human communication.” We will study the art of rhetoric through representative novels of American and British literature as well as numerous works of non-fiction. This course is both reading and writing intensive.

TEXTS

These texts are supplemented by a sizeable addition of non-fiction works (speeches, essays, etc).

- Fahrenheit 451, Ray Bradbury (summer)
- The Scarlet Letter, Nathaniel Hawthorne
- Frankenstein, Mary Shelley
- The Great Gatsby, F. Scott Fitzgerald
- Of Mice and Men, John Steinbeck
- Night, Elie Wiesel
- Romeo and Juliet, William Shakespeare
- Various poetry selections
- Various non-fiction speeches, articles, and essays

N.B. Literature has a unique way of reflecting the human condition, sometimes at its best and sometimes at its worst. Mature issues addressed in the texts will be approached prayerfully and with multiple viewpoints in mind (literary merit, historical context, Biblical worldview, etc.).

FILMS

Films are treated as texts as they foster discussions on intertextuality, revisionism, and tropes.

- Fahrenheit 451 (1966)
- The Great Gatsby (2013)
- Of Mice and Men (1992)
- Romeo and Juliet (various adaptations)

SPEECHES

On numerous occasions, students are expected to speak in front of the class in both informal and formal presentations. There will also be 1 memorized recitation per semester.

CLASSROOM CIVILITY “Clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience.” Colossians. 3:12

There will be many opportunities for class discussions and debates. You are encouraged to speak your mind in a manner that is respectful of others with differing perspectives.

MAKE UP WORK | LATE WORK POLICY

You have one day for each excused absence to make up work. If unexcused, missed hw is due the day you return. If you know you will be absent, contact me ahead of time, NOT the day work is due. If you miss an appointment to make up a test/quiz, you will receive a zero. Late work is not accepted (school policy). See the BCS handbook for details.

GRADES

- Participation, Engagement, & Preparedness (P.E.P) 10%
- Homework 20%
- Quizzes 30%
- Tests (including major papers and projects) 40%

Unless otherwise noted, assignments should be turned into the tray at the beginning of class. Work placed in the wrong tray will be considered late. There are at least three test grades per quarter and a final exam at the end of the semester. A research paper is assigned in the 2nd semester.

P.E.P. GRADE – Reflects student engagement in class and preparedness (bring materials to class, participate in discussions, completes bellwork, etc.).

RETURNED WORK – Shorter essays will be graded and returned to students approximately 1 week from the due date. Longer essays will take approximately 2 weeks.

FEEDBACK – Students can expect a range of feedback. Many writing assignments are returned with feedback. Shorter or informal writing may be graded with little to no comments, especially when the focus is on practice. Twice a year, I conduct individual writing conferences with students.

GUIDELINES & PROCEDURES

- Academic dishonesty, including plagiarism and cheating, will result in a zero and a referral.
- Bring your book and binder to class every day. Consequences include a tardy and/or zero.
- All formal writing will follow MLA guidelines. This is consistent with college English courses.
- During tests and quizzes, place your backpacks and all other belongings against the wall.
- Use a pink slip for late work, missing work, and makeup work.
- You will write and sign the honor code at the bottom of every test.
- Use a blue or black pen for all homework, quizzes, and tests. No pencils, please.
- At the top of all your work, you will print your full name and date.
- No spoilers! If you have already read a book or watched a film adaptation, don't spoil the plot.
- Write clearly and legibly. Illegible assignments will be marked Incomplete and you may be required to rewrite or type your work. Feel free to type any take-home assignments.
- You MUST get permission to eat or drink in my class.

“There is always the danger that we may just do the work for the sake of the work. This is where the respect and the love and the devotion come in – that we do it to God, to Christ, and that’s why we try to do it as beautifully as possible.” ~Mother Teresa
